1. Request for a Special Exception for a new mixed use development consisting of three 4-story multi-family residential buildings with 144 units, a 2,592 sf community clubhouse and a separate 9,100 sf commercial building
Chairman Devoto asked if Mark Devoe could speak before the public hearing opens because this is a different process. Mark explained that in 2018 the Commission adopted a regulation that permits a floating zone within the Special Residential Development Zone (SRD) which can only be located in the NPC Zone (Newfield Planned Commercial Zone). It establishes a different set of criteria which is differ from the underlying zone. It permits the Commission wide liberal discretion because it includes a zone change. There is no requirement that the Commission approve this; only to consider this application. The project is on a state road and will be reviewed by the State District of Transportation and the Office of the Transportation Administration. The applicant did include a traffic study which was included in the packets. The Design and Preservation Board has reviewed and approved the application. It has also been approved by the IWWA, Urban Forestry and EDC Commissions. Chairman Devoto suggested hearing the second item on the agenda for zone change before the public hearing.

Doug Anderson from Anderson & Wilcox is part of the development team with Marco DiMauro and John Pappas. He handed out some minor changes to the plans due to the comments from the Fire Department. He began his presentation with the history and description of the properties. This is a five building project which is a mix of 9,100 s.f. commercial building along Newfield Street, a clubhouse and three separate 4-story residential buildings.

Sam Gardner, Architect with an office at 151 East Street, New Haven described the architecture of the project and what materials would be used.

Frank Magnotta. Consulting Engineer discussed engineering, the storm water management, final grading, utilities placing, erosion and sedimentation control plans and the wetlands.

David Spear, Traffic Engineer discussed the engineering report and his methodology for trip generation and LOS rates. DOT may require pass-by capabilities for one or more site drives.

From the Public:

- Carol Zampini, owner of 834 Newfield Street said that traffic is worse than the engineers stated. With the construction she has found that her building and cars are dirty, one of her staff quit because of the noise, a tree fell on one of her customer’s car because of the root disruption. It is also very hard to get in and out of her driveway because of the traffic and there are several accidents at the lights in that area per month.

- Sandy Garten of Bartholomew Road said that her mother lives next to the property. She could not get out of the driveway because of the traffic. She wanted to take a left and had to take a right. If there is a problem on Route 9, Newfield Street is much more crowded.

- Shanay Fulton of 25 Green Street has worked at the High School and Keigwin Middle School and said the traffic is a big concern.
• Catherine Johnson of 161 College Street said Newfield Street has lost its character of single family homes with lawns and farms. She has issue with the 3 very large buildings on a sea of asphalt. There are no connections with adjacent parcels. No interior streets for residents and non-residents to walk on. She finds that it is inconsistent with the 2010 Plan of Conservation and Development.

• Joe Cocosta of Boston Road questioned why there isn’t any sidewalks planned for this project. Kids from the high school have to walk in the road to get to Ghezzi’s Market.

Doug Anderson stated that they did consider putting commercial instead of residential but it would cause more traffic. David Spear responded to the traffic comments brought up tonight. He said that the data he received from the accidents were mostly fender-benders where the drivers were following too closely. He said that it is very low volume for a state road. Being a state road, if the state wants sidewalks, they will put them in. Doug Anderson added that they also made provisions for a bus stop if the state allowed it.

Commissioner Pelletier asked if any of the units are designed for persons with disabilities. Doug Anderson said they are all units have 3 foot doors and handicap adaptable. They are active adult builders so they are familiar with that dynamic. Sam Gardner added that the building code requires them to make a certain percentage of the units that can easily be converted to those who have mobility issues, is in a wheelchair or other disability. The building code essentially requires certain clearances, door widths, bathroom layouts which makes all units accessible. They have paid a lot of attention to the grading of the sidewalks and curb ramps where they’re required.

A lengthy discussion ensued.

At 9:00 PM Commissioner Emery made a motion for a 10 minute break so that the tapes could be changed. Commissioner Kovach seconded the motion. The chair called for the vote. The chair stated the matter passed unanimously with 7 affirmative votes. At 9:10 the Chair resumed the public hearing.
